Public Works Superintendent Kurt Collins' Report

Guys have started to street sweep, spray, and hang banners. Campgrounds have opened. Waiting on the pool company to come evaluate bumps/blisters on the bottom of the pool and can be filled after that. Will lean on expert advice for whether blisters should be repaired immediately or wait until the fall. Furnace and plumber quotes anticipated this month. Water being trenched to new development and water service lines ready to go on half of the units; potentially start footings on 5/7/25. Still waiting on quotes for street lights on the bridge to repaint and for Ryan Contracting to come start their punch list items. Shortage of green sand for media filters across the country. We're hopeful to get what we need by this fall.
